INTRODUCTION

In keeping with one of our purposes, to preserve the New Mexico records, the New Mexico Genealogical Society, Inc., is publishing New Mexico Cemeteries, Volume II: Some Valencia County Cemeteries. These cemeteries were recorded by various members of the Society, over a period of time, as listed in the introduction to each cemetery.

Clara Taylor typed the manuscript. Margaret Windham prepared the index. The New Mexico Genealogical Society thanks these people and all of those members who helped with the recording of the cemeteries.

OLD CUBERO CEMETERY

VALENCIA COUNTY

This old, abandoned Catholic cemetery is on the Cubero Land Grant. It served the church ("Our Lady of Light" 1866-- ) until just after the turn of the century when a new cemetery was started about a mile north of the village. It now appears to be in a state of complete abandonment, although an effort to prevent further vandalism is apparent. A grave site marked with unpainted wooden picket fence and roof indicates the age of the cemetery. It is on the right side of the road just before entering the village of Cubero from the Cubero exit off I 40 going west.

Recorded June 1977 by Catherine Blouin, Amelia Garcia, Lila Pfeufer, and Evelyn Bishop.

SAN FIDEL CEMETERY

VALENCIA COUNTY

The San Fidel Cemetery (Catholic) was recorded because it had been described as a "very old cemetery." The rear section was filled with many wooden crosses, some of which had fallen or been discarded and replaced with modern markers. The section facing the entrance had the more recent burials marked with modern stones with legible inscriptions. It can be found about a quarter of a mile west of the village of San Fidel.

Recorded June 15, 1977, by Amelia Garcia, Catherine Blouin, and Evelyn Bishop.

OLD LOS LUNAS CEMETERY
VALENCIA COUNTY

This cemetery was back of - and to the side of - the original Catholic Church in Los Lunas; only the foundation of the latter is discernible. Many of those grave sites which once had "modern" tombstones have been vandalized - stones toppled or broken up. There are the usual number of sites either completely unmarked or whose mortuary markers have long since become unreadable. Closed to burials. It is approximately 1/8 mile south of Hwy 6 and Mission Avenue intersection (just east of RR Crossing).

Copied on June 16, 1976, by Ann Mossman, Connie Calhoun and Sibyl Nissen.

PARAJE CEMETERY (LAGUNA PUEBLO)
 VALENCIA COUNTY

This cemetery is located on State Road 124, between New Laguna and Budville, Valencia County, New Mexico. This is a large site, steel mesh fenced; the south section contained several unidentifiable graves; the north section consists of newer graves having white wooden crosses with names and dates in black paint; all of these latter showed evidence of being decorated.

BELEN CATHOLIC CEMETERY

VALENCIA COUNTY

This cemetery is chain-linked fenced, approximately 1-1/4 city blocks in area, located on the northeast corner of Mesa Road and Delgado Street in SW Belen. This list records burials beginning at the west end and working eastward. This cemetery, with its many wooden crosses in various states of disrepair - weeds high and stickery and strewn with broken glass, tin cans, and garbage is in sharp contrast to a lovely lawn-covered cemetery to the north.

Copied between July and November 1976 by Inez Freeman, Bonnie Hanna, Ann Mossman, Amelia Garcia, and Sibyl Nissen.

SANGRE de CRISTO
(VALENCIA R.C.) CHURCH YARD
Valencia County, New Mexico

This cemetery is located at the intersection of State Roads 47 and 49 just east of Los Lunas. The huddle of buildings is known as Valencia, and the Catholic church here is a well kept twin-spired edifice typical of early churches in New Mexico. The cemetery was at the front and west side of the church.

Copied August 6, 1972, by Virginia L. Olmsted and Janet A. Curtis.

These stones were widely scattered around the church yard and, in all probability, there are many many burials here of which there is no evidence today. There were several graves with no identification but marked with field stones laid out in the form of a cross.

TOME CATHOLIC CHURCHYARD

PAGUATE CEMETERY
(Laguna Pueblo)

This cemetery located on State Road 279, eight miles north of State Road 124 at Old Laguna, Valencia County, New Mexico. It is an adobe walled plot 25 feet x 50 feet, unkempt, with many graves unidentified.

Copied February 20, 1972, by Sibyl Nissen.

A large cement cross just inside the gate carried a black metal plate inscribed: "In Memory of the Loved Ones Who Are Asleep." At the base, some name had been written (carved), but now partly buried, could not be read.

PAGUATE VILLAGE CEMETERY

This cemetery is located in a fenced field west of State Highway 279 on the northern edge of the Indian Village. The burials are in neat rows the full width of the cemetery, and each interment is mounded and marked with a wooden cross about two to two and one-half feet tall and wide; most of these are freshly painted white and have the individual's name, date of birth, and date of death painted on them in black. There are many government military markers of marble and a few small granite stones, some with bronze plates; but even these have the white wooden crosses. Nearly all the graves are decorated with artificial flower arrangements, plates and bowls, glassware, and some Indian pottery - perhaps for the use of the departed spirit in the hereafter. One particularly poignant grave was that of a boy on which the family had placed three beautiful porcelain horses, two white and one brown, and a toy truck.

Note: The preceding inscriptions are copied from the first three rows of markers and seem to indicate burials in consecutive order according to death, with very few exceptions; such as, Robert Annala, Sr., who was placed at the end of a row. The remainder are copied at random as there were many weathered crosses from here to the back which were not legible, so while the first three rows represent a high percentage of the burials, the remainder does not.
